

Leadership Elections 2016

Validation and verification process

NEC procedures

Prior to the commencement of balloting, the Procedures Committee established NEC panels to oversee the validation and verification process of people who are eligible for a vote in the 2016 Leadership election.

Each panel is comprised of three NEC members and a majority vote is needed when determining someone is ineligible to vote.

These NEC panels determine the eligibility of participants by looking directly at evidence submitted to the validation system and making a decision on each individual.

Determining eligibility

In making their judgements the NEC panels rely on the party rulebook and NEC procedural papers. They have also drawn on statements from the party leadership on a zero tolerance approach to abuse.

The procedural rules for the leadership election state that:

No abuse of any kind by members or supporters shall be tolerated. All eligible members and supporters must conduct themselves in a calm and polite manner and be respectful to each other at all times. Behaviour including, but not limited to, racist, abusive or foul language, abuse against women, homophobia or anti-Semitism at meetings, on social media or in any other context will be dealt with according to the rules and procedures of the Labour Party.

Allegations of breaches to the rule above have, in all cases, been referred to the NEC panels to determine whether further action needs to be taken. Whilst there is no right of appeal for Registered or Affiliate supporters, members have a right of appeal and can do so by emailing appeals@labour.org.uk.

Below are some of the examples of comments of individuals who have been ruled ineligible to participate in the leadership ballot:

1. "If the PLP forcibly replace Corbyn with some Blairite cunt, I'll cancel my membership and never vote for them again.
2. 'We voted Corbyn in for a reason, and that reason was to keep traitorous Blairite/Liberal scum like you out Benn. This orchestrated coup by liberals is disgusting, even dragging Camoron into it with his two penn'th. All MPs who resigned should be deselected and kicked out of the party. Let them make their own party, see if anyone votes for them then. Shame on you Benn you despicable coward.'
3. I would cut Tony Blair's eyes out and set him on fire the murdering cunt. 1 million deaths on his hands. Fuck him.'

8. 'If there were any justice this murderous lying bastard would be hung... What a disgraceful excuse for a Labour MP you are - you're a "sneering traitor".'
9. 'I have just joined the Labour @UKLabour so I can support him against the traitorous backstabbing Blairite MPs. Sack them all.

10. @enfield_greens @SouthwarkGP because Tony Blair is a cunt
11. A big day for Scotland tomorrow. Vote SNP unless you're in Kelvin then vote for @patrickharvie. Vote Green in the regional vote everywhere'
12. 'Make sure you vote today, and if you're in Scotland vote green on the peach ballot!
13. #VoteGreen2016 #GreenHolyrood if my local mp is anti-corbyn I will vote tory.
14. '@peterkyle Hi, never heard of you, because you are a Blairite nonentity. Recognise the membership thinks you are a traitor.
15. @hilarybennmp the friend of Labour the friend of democracy / butt out Judas the members want Corbyn go join Farage
16. LilianGreenwood what is the collective term for traitor MPs? A Judas? A Brutus or A Quisling? We the members are behind Corbyn '
17. @tom_watson as you're washing then you'll see a reflection - it's the face of a Labour Party traitor to its members'
18. As a catholic I am prepared. Not so sure about you WASP/Zio dumbass heretics though. Ha ha ha
19. Worse, he says it was a parking dispute. Bubble dwelling Zio sychophant.'
20. Don't hold your breath. Us will veto and WW3 will go ahead as scheduled. Zio military industry to pay ffs
21. Zionists own the media and most of the US arms economy.
22. The Zio imperative is for war
