

Links to materials on the issue of “revolving doors”

Many of these sources give links to further materials. This tiny selection, in no particular order, should wet the appetite of anyone wanting to take the issue further. Some of the articles linked deal with the broader problem of revolving doors and not just its defence manifestation.

- (1) The Guardian, Ex-defence minister joins arms firm behind MoD £1.5bn overspend, 17/12/2010
- (2) Blog: Political Concern, Through the revolving defence door – Lady Ann Taylor, 18/12/2010
- (3) Blog: Political Concern, Revolving door 37 – confession time? 21/09/2009
- (4) High Pay Centre: The revolving door: how big business has colonised UK politics, 25/03/2015
- (5) Daily Mail: Nice work if you can get it! Exposed: Ex-ministers and civil servants whose work in public sector opens doors to lucrative private jobs, 03/05/2016
- (6) Daily Mail: Dozens of civil servants and military top brass get top jobs in the private sector WITHOUT official vetting, 31/08/2016
- (7) Parliament: Public Administration Committee, Written evidence submitted by Spinwatch \(BA 04\), 02/2012
- (8) The Independent: Ministers and civil servants are walking into highly-paid jobs in same sector, research shows, 03/05/2016
- (9) Campaign Against the Arms Trade: The revolving door, 23/09/2016
- (10) Blog: copy of Private Eye article Public Servants, Private Paydays, no date
- (11) Guardian: Too many MPs are wrapped in the tentacles of the lobbyists, 02/06/2013
- (12) Guardian: Politics can't heal until politicians stand clear of the revolving door, 02/09/2016
- (13) Guardian: Google: new concerns raised about political influence by senior 'revolving door' jobs, 04/06/2013
- (14) Guardian: Corporate power has turned Britain into a corrupt state, 04/06/2013